

Through sister site Kitty Cat Productions, Carol A Lunsford Art will assist you in finding the website hosting company that best fits your needs. We will design a site with images and text provided by the customer. All information sent by a customer is kept in a password protected file. All images belong to the customer and Carol A Lunsford Art will not use them in any other project. Carol A Lunsford Art reserves the right to use reference to the final product in promotions of works created.

Carol A Lunsford Art will send you a proposal and if the proposal is accepted it will be considered a contract. Payment for services is required BEFORE the project begins. The customer must create an email address that is company related, for communications between Carol A Lunsford Art and the customer. The customer will pay the hosting company for services. This will ensure the customer owns the site. Carol A Lunsford Art and the customer will both have access to the site through a protected password. Carol A Lunsford Art can be listed as the webmaster and site administrator. The customer will be listed as the owner. Design charges for the site will be $200. Updates to the site will occur monthly if needed. A $ 125 yearly renewal of services fee ensures the site will continue to be updated monthly.
